Dear Colleague:

On behalf of the New Hampshire Orthopaedic Society, Board of Directors and staff, we would like to introduce ourselves to you. NHOS is aware that there are a wide range of organizations competing for your participation and your hard-earned money, so we appreciate your taking the time to learn how the NHOS is the right Association for you.

There are many ways the NHOS is the right organization for you. We take pride in protecting our profession through our legislative efforts; offering resources that enhance your career; participate on committees that affect our profession at a local, state and national level.

Only through interested members like you can we continue to provide this service.

The NHOS Board of Directors looks forward to welcoming you to NHOS. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Joy Potter. Again, thank you for taking this time to see how NHOS is here for you!

- The Society continues to grow and gain a voice in the state. We hope you will take note of the accomplishments the Society has made and join us as we move forward.
- Anthony Mollano serves as a representative to the NH Medical Society General Council.
- Councilor Robert Heaps attends national council meetings representing the interests of NH Orthopedists.
- The organization supports two residents from Dartmouth attending the National Leadership Conference in Washington each year.
- Dinner meetings are held twice each year where we host national representatives or share local challenging cases.
- Presented continuing medical education program.
- We keep an active web site at nhorthos.com
- Elected a new Board of Directors, with a nice mix of seasoned folks and new energy.
- We are developing a mentorship program for new members
